Tech Tip #35Product Improvement- Sentinel Hub caps

STEMCO will make a running change to the popular 348 and 349 series Sentinel hub cap product line on November 1st, 2009. This design change will be a general product line improvement, increasing the durability of the Sentinel hub cap. The product improvement will incorporate the popular Integrated Sentinel technology, and prevent potential field damage to the red cap. Figures 1 and 2 illustrate the previous and updated Sentinel designs respectively.
